The Washington, DC Couture Wedding Consortium
Announces
The 2009 Couture Bridal Show
January 31, 2009

WASHINGTON, DC. – The Washington, DC Couture Wedding Consortium (DCCWC) is hosting its 2009 Couture Bridal Show at the Decatur House Museum on January 31, 2009 from 12-5pm.

A VIP/Press pre-show will be held from 10am -12pm for a sneak preview of the latest bridal couture gowns. Couture gowns from Claire Pettibone, Elizabeth Fillmore, Lea-Ann Belter & L'ezu Atelier will be featured and provided by Promise for the Savvy Bride. Avalon Caterers will provide couture organic cuisine along with a host of other surprises from various DCCWC members.

The DCCWC was founded in 2001 by Katie Martin of Elegance & Simplicity, Inc.. The DCCWC includes only the finest event vendors in the DC area that undergo a rigorous approval process to be part of the consortium.

The Knot, Washingtonian's Bride & Groom & My Day Magazines are sponsoring the event with free January issues for both the VIP pre-show and the general public on a 1st come, 1st serve basis.

An announcement of a national nature will be revealed at the VIP/Press pre-show.
